"Melting Pot" Opposed By Tories Says Roblin

Buff Roblin, Conservative Premier of Manitoba, speaking in French at a Conservative rally in Montreal, said the Conservatives oppose the principle of the "melting pot" for Canada. With party leader John Diefenbaker near him on the platform, Mr. Roblin said the voice of French-speaking Canada "should be clear in the party and in Parliament."

George Brown, Deputy Prime Minister of Britain, said in London the Labor government pledged itself Wednesday night to get Britain out of the red next year and build up reserves to repay "friends" overseas. One measure would be to cut military spending abroad, Mr. Brown told the Commons the government, with the aid of friendly countries, has beaten the pound-sterling speculators. The most recent figures showed that the deficit—the gap between exports and imports—has come down to £12,000,000 in the first six months of 1965 from £156,000,000 in 1964. "At last Britain is on her way," Brown declared.

Prime Minister Pearson said Wednesday night in Lindsay, Ont., something of a very far-reaching importance "is going on at the United Nations. Perhaps I shouldn't say any more about it," he remarked at an election rally.

Clyde Smith of Montreal has been sentenced there to one year at Hasey Correctional Institute on a charge of common assault. Smith was charged as a result of a fight against an elderly man.

Evangeliste Delac, 43, was sentenced Wednesday to two concurrent prison terms of 30 months each in Quebec after pleading guilty to two charges of fraud in setting fire to a house that belonged to him. Delac, who received $12,500 in insurance for the house, said there was a conspiracy with Olive Boulet and Jean-Jacques Gagnon to set the fire Oct. 29, 1963.

Dickie Chappelle, internationally-known woman correspondent and photographer in three wars, died today hours after she and four U.S. marines were wounded by a Viet Cong mine at Dan Mang, South Viet Nam. A U.S. military spokesman said Miss Chappelle, 41, was wounded while on an operation with a large force of U.S. marines near Chu Lai, 32 miles south of here. She died later.

Arthur Roden Cutler, Australian ambassador to The Netherlands and holder of the Victoria Cross, Britain's highest wartime bravery award, has been appointed governor of New South Wales.

Maria Cole, widow of crooner Nat King Cole, will sing at a Sydney, Australia, hotel for three weeks starting Nov. 22. Profits of her appearance will go to the Nat King Cole Cancer Research Foundation.

The Queen landed Wednesday with visiting Prince Hitachi and Princess Masako of Japan at Buckingham Palace.

P. A. Gastard, B.C. Highway Minister, said people shouldn't believe newspaper headlines about a "lot of bank" being told a service club meeting Tuesday. "Newspapers are in business to sell newspapers and they'll write whatever they like about you," Mr. Gastard said he likes reading newspapers to see how they misquote him.

John V. Lindsay, New York's Republican mayor-elect, first of his party to capture that title in 24 years, got congratulations and a commission of cooperation Wednesday from President Johnson, a Democrat.

Man Pleads Guilty To Driving Count
Albert G. Paulsen, Winfield, pleaded guilty in magistrate's court today to a reduced charge of dangerous driving and was remanded to Nov. 10 for sentencing.

He had previously been charged with criminal negligence resulting in death. The charge arose as the result of an accident Sept. 13 on Parrel road near Sawmill Creek in which passenger Donald Daryl Taylor, 20, of Winfield was injured. He died in hospital five days later.

A coroner's enquiry determined death was due to a cerebral oedema resulting from a fat embolism and a complication of multiple fractures.

The case was heard before Magistrate G. S. Denroche.

Two Stiff Fines Imposed Monday
Magistrate D. M. White handed out two stiff fines in magistrate's court Monday. Douglas George Thompson, 798 Walrod St., pleaded guilty to an impaired driving charge and was fined $100 and costs. Bernard Lemky, Old Vernon road, pleaded guilty to driving without due care and attention and was fined $150 and costs. A fine of $25 and costs was imposed on Douglas H. Chisholm, 958 Lawrence Ave., charged with intoxication, and on Mary Skubalak, 1986 Richter St., charged with leaving the curb when unsafe to do so. They pleaded guilty.

Orville Hackl, Port Alberni, charged with breach of trust, was remanded to Nov. 9 for plea. Joseph Rene Parent, Penticton, was remanded to Nov. 3 for preliminary hearing on a charge of theft of an auto.

Standing Ovation For Douglas On Quebec Reform Statement

MONTREAL (CP)—A crowd of 2,500 gave NDP leader T. C. Douglas several standing ovations Wednesday night when he said only his party's candidates can properly represent the Quebec reform movement in Ottawa.

Stressing the party's newly written two-nation concept of Confederation, Mr. Douglas accused the old parties of having divided the nation on regional, racial and religious grounds. The meeting was held in the downtown Shawmont, the same hall where Prime Minister Pearson spoke Tuesday night. The NDP meeting was boisterous but there were none of the separatists present who almost broke up Mr. Pearson's rally. Ten security officers and 35 party officials were on hand in case of trouble but they were not needed.

Mr. Douglas and his wife entered the hall accompanied by his Quebec leader, Robert Cliche, and Mrs. Cliche. Two security guards had to carve a path through the cheering crowd for them.

LARGEST RALLY
Party organizers said the meeting was the largest the party has ever staged in Quebec.

The NDP is trying to establish a beach-head in the province, and Mr. Douglas said he is certain Mr. Cliche will be elected in Beauce riding.

The NDP leader won his loud-est applause when he opened his speech in French, and apologized for his lack of ability in the language.

"We do not speak the same language but our sentiments and our aspirations are the same, because we are men of good will," he said.

Except for Mr. Douglas' 30-minute speech in English, the entire meeting was conducted in French.

More Hunters In The Hills Reports Cache Creek Station

There are more hunters in the field this year than last, a release from the department of recreation and conservation said today.

Up to and including Oct. 31 there were 10,524 resident hunters and 2,448 non-resident hunters, through the Cache Creek checking station. This is an increase of 58 per cent and 132 non-resident hunters over the same period in 1964.

Deer continue to be in short supply, 976 were counted, down 634 from last year. Forty-five grizzly, down eight, and three elk down seven, were also noted.

Five of the eight species of big game animals checked, showed increases. Moose totaled 4,157 up 514, goats 127 up three, sheep 49 up one, black bear 120 up 17 and caribou 194 up 12.

Grouse and ducks were the only upland birds showing increases. A total of 5,517 grouse were counted, an increase of 1,637. Ducks numbered 6,633 up 140 over last year.

There were 171 geese down 24, 33 pheasants down 29 and eight chukar down two. No

Savings Bond Sales Increase

Roger Cottle, in charge of the sales of Canada Savings Bonds in southern British Columbia, said today the sales of bonds, on payroll deductions, have been tremendous.

"We are up considerably over last year," he said, "with the southern Okanagan leading the province in sales."

TOTAL NOW
"To date 2,148 applications, representing 92.08 per cent of the total applications for last year, have been received, with a total sales figure to the end of October being $82,450. This represents 82.45 per cent of the total sales for last year, and we still have two weeks to go. It looks as though we will do considerably better than last year."

Mr. Cottle said the sales show a more stable industrial economy in the province.

"The sales of bonds at the present time," he said, "show the people have a more subtle outlook toward their jobs. They can see, looking ahead, their jobs are much more secure, due to a demand on industry, and they are more willing to spend their money."

ONE COMPANY
"As a prime example, B.C. Telephone had a total of 60 applications last year, they already have 60 applications, representing sales of $16,600 and we have many of their employees to bear from yet. The total sales for last year was $14,200."

He said 24 per cent of the companies canvassed in B.C. have already surpassed the total sales for last year, and they are expecting many more sales to come.

The annual election of officers for the American Chamber of Commerce will take place by mail ballot, Jim Donald, secretary-manager, said today.

The result will be made known Dec. 15 at noon. Chairman of the nominating committee is R. L. Sharp, past president.

BALLOTS MAILED

Ballots will be mailed out to members Dec. 3 and must be returned to the chamber office by 5 p.m. Dec. 15.

Members will be voting for president, a vice-president and eight directors. Eight additional directors are appointed by the organizations which they represent.

"Members are urged to send in their nominations to the committee," Mr. Donald said.

Forms for the signature of the candidate and his two sponsors are available from Mr. Sharp or from the chamber office. Closing date for nominations is Nov. 30.

NO FLOOR NOMINATIONS

There are no nominations from the floor. Under the mail ballot system, names submitted to the nominating committee take the place of nominations from the floor.

This method of conducting elections gives every member of the chamber of commerce an equal opportunity to nominate and to vote for the executive members, instead of only those who attend the annual meeting.

Mr. Donald said the second time the chamber has conducted the election by mail ballot. It was instituted in December 1964.

Four of the 70 students who took part in civic administration day Oct. 25, attended the regular luncheon meeting of the Kelowna Rotary club Tuesday, to report to this sponsoring group.

They were Terry Manson, vice editor at the Daily Courier, Robert Turdull, mayor for a day, Michael Tremblé, CKOV, and Diane Tomiye who worked in the hospital laboratory.

Terry told Rotarians she was "thrilled" at being the first person in Kelowna to read news coming in to the Courier office by teletype.

Robert said although city council did not all agree in individual items discussed, they did work together to make Kelowna the best possible city.

Michael said the amount of organization necessary to arrange the radio station's numerous programs "amazed him."

Diane told the meeting, the general public is unaware of the many departments that work behind the scenes in a hospital for the welfare of patients.

"The equipment is all modern," she said.

All agreed in thanking Rotary for the opportunities they had each learned something new about the operation of the city and its firms.

M. J. Carron, superintendent of Mount Revelstoke and Glacier National Parks, today urged all motorists to equip their vehicles with winter tires in good condition before traveling the Trans Canada Highway, East of Revelstoke.

Mr. Carron said all vehicles using summer tread tires must carry chains to fit their wheels.

"Drivers can and may be refused admittance to the National Park entrance gateways," he said, "for failing to observe this regulation."

"We urge all drivers to carry a shovel and low rope, and warn them to watch for unexpected slippery sections in snow sheds and shaded areas on the road, and for falling rocks."

The superintendent said there were 37,500 cars across the Rogers Pass in October, carrying a total of 90,000 passengers.

Last year, during that period, there were only 23,037 cars, carrying 52,341 passengers.

Since April 1, 1964, when the pass was officially opened, there have been 978,000 vehicles across, carrying 2,804,000 passengers.

The number of cars leaving the province by way of the pass in October, far outweighed the number coming in, with 45,000 leaving, and 18,900 entering B.C.

OTTAWA (Special) — Full extent of the damage to British Columbia's fruit crop as the result of December's severe frost, is spelled out in a recent fruit production bulletin issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

The Bureau says B.C. fruit growers harvested a smaller crop than usual of all fruit except loganberries and blueberries. Latest estimates place the apple crop at 4.6 million bushels, a 10 per cent drop from the 5.1 million bushels harvested in 1966. The pear crop was 1.1 million bushels, a 10 per cent drop from 1.2 million bushels in 1966. The Kelowna Kinsmen club are holding their annual 'bosses night' supper meeting tonight at the Capri Motor Hotel, at 6:30 p.m.

David Bakes, a representative of the club, said all members who are not self-employed will bring their employers to the meeting and 'let them in' on the workings of the club.

"We always have a great time at this function," he said, "and always have a good attendance."

"There are 63 active members in the club, and when most of them bring their bosses, it generally turns into quite a night."

Kelowna's branches of the Royal Canadian Legion, British Columbia Dragoons, Navy, Army and Air Force cadets, and the BPO Elks, will join forces on Nov. 11, for a parade in remembrance of Canada's war dead.

The Remembrance Day ceremonies will be under the direction of the Royal Canadian Legion, and will consist of the parade, with services in City Park, and Memorial Arena.

The parade, leaving the Kelowna Armoury at 10:30 a.m., will have two sections, with the Legion and auxiliary, consisting of a police car escort, the Legion band, a color party and escorts, Legionnaires, and BPOE leading, followed by the militia-contingent.

MILITIA

The militia contingent will be made up of the Navy Cadet band, the B.C. Dragoons and the Navy, Army and Air Force cadets.

There will be a 300 foot interval between the contingents, which will march from the Legion hall, on Ellis street, to Bernard Ave., and from there to the City Park cenotaph.

The parade will form a square around the cenotaph at 10:45 a.m., where a ceremony will be conducted in accordance with the Royal Canadian Legion ritual.

The city band will lead the contingent in the singing of 'O Canada', and Legion Padre Rev. R. S. Leitch will lead them in the singing of a hymn.

SIGNAL GUN

At 11 a.m., the signal gun will fire for the beginning of the silence, and buglers Vernon Steinke and Wayne Slewert, of the Navy cadets, will play the Last Post. In accordance with the dipping of the colors.

After the second firing of the signal gun, Reveille by the buglers, and the raising of the colors, the wreaths will be placed at the base of the cenotaph.

The contingent will then sing God Save The Queen, and move down Lawrence Ave. to the fire hall, where they will give an 'eyes right' to the cenotaph there.

MEMORIAL ARENA

They will continue to Ellis street, where they will turn left and proceed to Memorial Arena for a short service, during which Legion President Harold Whitehouse will place a wreath and the Padre will give the Benediction.

At Rutland, at 1 p.m., a ceremony will be held in the Rutland public school.

A total of 200 people attended the third annual parent-teachers bazaar at the Summaville town hall.

Proceeds, some $400, will be used to provide needed items for the retarded workshop, including a refrigerator and a television set.

A donation will be made to the school bus fund.

Mrs. Blanche Berden convoked the bazaar, assisted by Mrs. Philip Schneider.

The training centre (workshop) has been in operation for five years and at its pupils are: Philip Tren- and is supervised. The Summaville school, opened Sunday, conduct regular education classes and has 22 pupils registered. Principal is Mrs. Nola Peters.

Everard Clarke, Vernon, general manager of SODICA, said today farmers who have failed to meet the demands of the technological revolution are in a sad state.

"It is current dairy policy, recognized by the federal government, that farms producing less than 10,000 pounds of milk annually should not be encouraged to remain in the dairy business," he said.

"Our concern is primarily one of low prices for farmers. The income of dairy farmers is not keeping pace with the increase in other segments of the economy.

"Dairy farmers get more per 100 pounds for their milk now than they did in 1963, but costs of farm production are constantly increasing.

"Farmers' costs during the last 10-year period increased nearly twice as fast as income from 100 pounds of milk. Milk production per cow has increased, but not enough to off set the increased cost of production.

"Many farmers have responded to these pressures by investing more capital and producing a greater volume of milk. Those who cannot meet the demands of the technological revolution are in a sad state," Mr. Clarke said.

Norman Stephanishim, who was credited by police with winning numerous lives at the Hope-Princeton area, was elected January 9, 1964, has been nominated for the 1965 Dunlop Trucking Hero Award.

On the morning of January 9, 1964, Mr. Stephanishim was driving his truck back to Vancouver after making his last delivery in the valley.

At about 5 a.m. he found his was blocked by a car with two young men and a young woman, stuck in the snowslide area. After several fruitless attempts to free the car he advised them to abandon the car and hike the two miles back to Summalo Lodge with him.

When another truck arrived it was decided Mr. Stephanishim should hike back for help alone. On the way to the lodge he flagged down a Greyhound bus told them of the slide and proceeded back to the lodge.

At 11 a.m., the signal gun will fire for the beginning of the silence, and buglers Vernon Steinko and Wayne Stewert, of the Navy cadets, will play the Last Post. In accordance with the dipping of the colors.

After the second firing of the signal gun, Reveille by the buglers, and the raising of the colors, the wreaths will be placed at the base of the cenotaph.

The contingent will then sing "God Save The Queen, and move down Lawrence Ave. to the fire hall, where they will give an 'eyes right' to the cenotaph there.

MEMORIAL ARENA

They will continue to Elm street, where they will turn left and proceed to Memorial Arena for a short service, during which Legion President Harold Whitehouse will place a wreath and the Padre will give the Benediction.

At Rutland, at 1 p.m., a ceremony will be held in the Rutland public school.

Undecided Voter Is A Very Important Person

There are quite a number of Canadians — and we include ourselves among them — who have only three days left in which to make up our minds how to vote on Monday next. It is the favor of the undecided voter for which the political parties are striving in these the final days of the campaign.

According to the findings of the pollsters, a few weeks ago the undecideds number better than a third of the total voters. In the last poll this number had dropped to 10 per cent, still an abnormally high figure at this date in the campaign.

In the federal election in 1963, the Liberals obtained 41.7 per cent of the popular vote, and won 129 seats; the Conservatives received 32.8 per cent of the popular vote and secured 95 seats. The NDP won 17 seats with 11.9 per cent of the ballots and Social Credit took 24 seats with 11.9 per cent of the vote.

In the 1963 election the Liberals increased their popular vote by 4.5 per cent from 37.2 to 41.7 per cent and gained power. In that election, the Conservative popular vote dropped by 4.5 per cent from 37.3 to 32.8.

These figures do indicate that a shift of voting in a range of about five to eight per cent is sufficient to unseat a government. If the shift happens to be favorable it can put a formerly weak government in a strong position. It takes little figuring to realize what a huge potential lies in the vote that is now said to be undecided. It is not to be deplored that so many Canadian voters are taking so long to make up their minds, assuming that they are using the time to compare performances, platforms and pledges. The real danger will come if large numbers of people conclude that the whole thing is not worth the trouble and decide not to go to the polls at all.

It may be a healthy thing that many citizens are not going to vote automatically for a certain party because they always have, their fathers did or their grandfathers did before them. The old system of "yellow dog" voting weakens the principle that in a democracy government are, in the end, accountable to the people. This is hard to enforce if the parties can count for sure on wholesale support from certain blocs.

The undecided voters are very special people. Although they now represent only about 10 per cent of the enfranchised population, they are the ones who can keep a government in power or change it; give the government a healthy majority or continue the minority position that prevailed in the last Parliament.

Those who are now thinking their way toward a conclusion on how they will vote hold the future in their hands. They should not make up their minds carelessly or on the basis of frivolous factors.

Poppy Day Vital To Many

November 11, the day set aside for the living to remember the dead of past world wars, dead that gave their lives that we might live, is next week.

On Friday and Saturday of this week the Royal Canadian Legion in Kelowna is conducting its annual poppy campaign. Youngsters from the cadet corps of the three armed services will be on the street corners selling poppies.

But the sale of the poppies and the wearing thereof is only the external observance.

The money donated toward the poppy itself is the life blood of many. Poppies are manufactured by disabled former soldiers who are not physically or mentally capable of holding a regular job such as you and I. They are manufactured in factories set up to give these people something to do, to give them a means of raising their own livelihood.

These are the men who waited long hours to sign their name on the dotted line, who trained long or short as the case may be and one day found themselves face to face with an enemy of our way of life.

These are the men who stood firm that we might continue to live in comparative luxury. These are the men who are paying for that devotion to us with minute by minute, hour by hour, year by year, pain.

Wouldn't you support them this Poppy Day?

More Responsibility

Some things are impossible to believe, however hard one tries. Take for example the proposal made by the Naval Officers' Association of Canada that the minimum age for boat operators should be nine.

There are people who can prevent arguments for boys of nine being allowed to fire shot guns, or drive cars if they are propped up on cushions. Fortunately, the majority of adults—particularly parents—remain unconvinced. It is to be hoped they will remain of the same mind on authorizing boys of nine to take the helm.

This age was chosen, we are told, only after consultation with psychiatrists and psychologists, as though this automatically gave it the stamp of absolute wisdom.

Naturally, quite young boys get experience in boat handling at camps and other places. But this does not qualify a nine-year-old to control a boat.

What is needed is common sense. What would happen if a boy of this age were involved in a fatal boat accident? Would the little fellow have to appear before a coroner's jury? And if he were found culpable, before a court?

We strongly favor proper training in boat handling and the licensing of boat operators using the rivers and lakes of this country. There is a lot of carelessness, wildness and showing off which menaces the lives and safety of the innocent. But boat operators must be of an age that they can be made accountable for their actions.

Nine is much too young. What we need is more responsibility, not less.

"MAY I ASK OF WHAT INTEREST THIS MEETING IS TO YOU?"

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

A Crystal Ball Requirement Here

By DR. JOSEPH G. MOLNER

Dear Dr. Molner:

When I returned in 1961 my problem was diagnosed as coronary heart disease. The severe chest pains have long since disappeared, and so has shortness of breath unless I forego rest periods after meals.

However, a bluish tint prevails around my lips. It is more pronounced when I am tired.

What is your guess as to my longevity in view of this, as well as that I'm always occupied in some benevolent enterprise? It seems I'm busier now at 70 working for free than I was when earning a substantial salary—$11 P.

I broke my crystal ball long ago and refuse to predict longevity. Disappointingly healthy people get run over by cars or develop some unexpected disease, and die. And people with dangerous conditions succeed in taking care of themselves very effectively and outlive others who seemingly have nothing to worry about.

There's more truth than nonsense in the adage about the way to live a long life: Have some chronic condition that you have to take care of.

This is true of several kinds of heart disease. A cranky heart will still serve us for a long time if given half a chance. Many people who develop heart disease refuse to believe this, and insist on going along at the rate they are used to—with disastrous results.

At the other extreme, there are people with comparatively mild heart trouble (not that we can call such a thing really "mild") who ought to remain moderately active, but they don't. They are so overwhelmed and frightened that they go into reverse and don't do anything. That's bad for them, too.

So what about you? You have a serious heart condition, but you have learned the one great lesson: Remain active within your limitations, and know what the limitations are!

You have, in the last four years, ridden yourself of your heart pains, and you have learned the amount of rest you need in order to avoid shortness of breath. If only we could convince ALL heart patients of the importance of these simple but vital facts, we would be far ahead. But some people simply refuse to honor the great simplicities.

Yes, you have some blueness of the lips, but that is scarcely surprising. You know your heart isn't as strong as it used to be. You remain active and interested, and you know how to protect yourself against trying to do too much.

I can't guess how long you will live. I couldn't guess even if you didn't have a heart that needs to be babied along. But barring the unexpected, you ought to have some years of continuing your benevolent activities.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have a friend who has gone blind from cataracts. He has been to a specialist but they tell him there is no help for him because he has diabetes. Is this true?—MRS. C.S.

There may be some misinterpretation or misunderstanding of what he was told. Diabetes in itself does not preclude removal of cataracts. Many people with diabetes are aided by such surgery.

However, if the diabetes has damaged the back of the eye, removal of the cataracts would do no good. Changes in the eye, other than cataracts, can occur from diabetes.

Removal of cataracts is beneficial only if the rest of the eye is in adequately good condition.

NOTE TO M.T.F.: Are you sure your doctor didn't say "cataracts" instead of "carbuncle"? A carbuncle is a small, fleshy growth, usually harmless but sometimes a nuisance.

Admiral J. A. Beahm, commander of the British West Indies squadron, died 263 years ago today—in 1702—of wounds suffered in chasing a small French flotilla two weeks before.

The captain of Beahm's other ships abandoned the flag-ship, which was heavily hit by enemy fire. The admiral remained at his post until forced by the captain to return to Jamaica the following morning. Two of them were court-martialed and shot before Beahm's death.

1890 — SS Accommodation, the first steamer on the St. Lawrence, completed her maiden voyage from Montreal to Quebec.

1911 — Galbraith Rodgers arrived at Pasadena, Calif.,

completing the first trans-continental flight (began Sept. 17 at New York).

First World War: Fifty years ago today—in 1915—the allies government of Greece resigned; Serbia claimed a victory over Bulgaria at Iwro; Russian units made gains near Czernowitz in Bucovina.

Second World War: Twenty-five years ago today—in 1940—the armed British merchant cruisers

Laurentic and Patroclus were announced torpedoed and sunk; bad weather held up RAF raids on the Continent; Sqdn. Ldr. Gordon R. McGregor of Montreal succeeded Wing Cmdr. Ernest McNab of Regina in command of No. 1 RCAF (Fighter) Squadron; Spain suspended international rule of Tangier.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Sir: Your editorial of Oct. 29—Viet Nam Demonstrators—just what do they want. In the first place I believe this editorial wasn't written in Kelowna by the editor of the Courier, although no doubt Mr. Editor thinks this way. It is the policy of the Courier to think and write this way.

It has always been so for my 40 odd years of reading the Courier and its preceding papers of different names. It is generally known as reactionary or the Yellow Press. Now, Mr. Editor, just what do you think it is "they want." Peace is what the common people of the world want and will eventually have, whether you like it or not.

Everything seems to be changing except the old line imperialism with the United States in the lead, who calls herself a Christian nation, who has the audacity to print on its coins, "In God We Trust." Ask yourself what American troops are doing several thousand miles from home, to stop Communism from taking over the whole of Asia. What business is it of yours poking your nose into their affairs?

And I, as a Canadian, tell President Johnson to get his Texan longhorn-bull snout out of Viet Nam and leave the tillers of the rice paddies alone. Suppose someone invaded this country or the United States. Would we squawk or have the guts to fight back?

Again while you would brand these demonstrators as Communists or sympathizers, you are only partly right. All walks of life are taking part in this peace movement.

What is actually happening, monopoly finance is waging a war to save their lousy system from collapsing about their ears. These demonstrators are world wide against Yankee Imperialism. The young people who, from their campuses, are protesting the dirty imperialism war, are on the proper path and your bleating isn't going to have any effect whatsoever.

You have the right to say what you think, please give me the right to oppose your thinking or whoever does your thinking for you. And I'll bet that in the end the patriot forces of Viet Nam will win against the publishing of this letter, which is your democratic prerogative.

JOSEPH IVENS

(EDITOR'S NOTE: In the interests of accuracy, two observations should be made. The Kelowna Clarion was established in 1904 and in 1905 the name was changed to the Courier. Mr. Ivens is confused when he talks about "its preceding papers of different names." Secondly, the editorial in question, despite his opinion, was written in Kelowna and in this office. The editorial policy of this paper is purely a local matter and there has never been any outside direction or even suggestion to influence the local policy by anyone.

As for the remainder of Mr. Ivens' letter, we will just let it speak clearly for itself.)

CANADA'S STORY

B.C. Ship Missing In Mysterious Crash

By BOB BOWMAN

For many years one of the mysteries of the sea has been the role of the ocean liner "Californian" when the "Titanic" sank in 1912 with a loss of 1,517 lives. The master of the "Californian" was accused of not having made any effort to rescue survivors of the "Titanic". It has only been in recent months that evidence has been produced to show that it was another ship and not the "Californian" that came on the scene and then sailed away without helping.

There was another tragedy-mystery on the Pacific coast even earlier in our history. The paddlewheel steamer "Pacific" left Victoria Harbor on Nov. 4, 1875, and proceeded into the Strait of Juan de Fuca. She made little progress because there was a strong headwind. About 10 p.m. the ship heeled over from a sharp shock, and sank in two minutes. There were only two survivors of 230 people on board.

One of them was Neil Henley, the quartermaster who had just come off watch and gone to his cabin to sleep. He said there had been a large sailing vessel off the starboard beam when he had left the bridge.

Later investigation indicated that this was the American coal carrier "Orinoco" and she had brushed the "Pacific". However her captain said that he had not realized the "Pacific" was damaged. He was busy checking the damage to his own ship when he looked up and saw that the "Pacific" had disappeared.

One of the bodies was that of a young girl and it drifted ashore within sight of her own home. It was the worst sea disaster of the Canadian Pacific coast.

OTHER EVENTS ON NOVEMBER 4:
1775 Only 390 men available to defend Halifax.
1809 Steamer "Accommodation" travelled Montreal to Quebec in 66 hours; fare 85.
1813 Halifax Fire Insurance Co. formed: first on record in Canada.

1838 Lord Castlereagh wrote to President Madison suggesting peace.

1838 Francis Hincks founded Toronto "Examiner".

1875 Sir John A. Macdonald and Donald Smith clashed in House of Commons.

1889 Large deposits of coal discovered in Nova Scotia.

The Kelowna United Church burned the wreckage at a thirty-fifth anniversary dinner. The cornerstone of the brick church had been laid by D. W. Sutherland, then the Mayor, in 1910. Rev. E. D. Braden of Hyerson United Church, Vancouver, and first minister of the local union church was guest speaker. As the flames consumed the mortgage paper, all joined in singing "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow."

A Glenmore landmark disappeared on Wednesday with the burning of S. T. Elliott's house in North Glenmore. Smoke was observed issuing from the roof, but lack of water prevented doing anything to save it. Built by George Kerr, it was occupied by a later date by Ben Hoy, and later by R. Lambly.

Baby - Into - Pool Edmonton's Way

EDMONTON (CP)—The City of Edmonton's learn - to - swim program aims to put youngsters in the pool before they go to school—some as early as nine months old.

"They can't do a heck of a lot at nine months," says Jack Boddington, supervisor of pools and arena. "But they get used to the water and learn faster. We've had two - year - olds swimming around in the deep end. Not on their own of course—using (floatation) bubbles—but actually controlling themselves."

The pre-school program, in which instructors show mothers how to teach their children to swim, is unique, Mr. Boddington says. Some 800 mothers brought children this year.

The city last year took over instruction of programs run by national and provincial aquatic organizations and "registration has never been as high," Mr. Boddington says.

In September there were 2,000 vacancies—in a V-A-F-O-U-S program. "About 3,800 came. The vacancies were filled within the first hour of registration."

The program last year produced 10,427 of the 33,348 Albertans who passed Canadian Red Cross water safety courses and 1,033 of the 3,369 Alberta graduates of the Royal Life Saving Society program.

PROVINCE STANDSTILL
In the Red Cross program, Alberta ran second to Ontario and in the life-saving program third to Ontario and Quebec.

But, says Mr. Boddington, "on a per capita basis we were second in that too."

The former recreation supervisor of Jasper Place, which amalgamated with Edmonton in 1903, credits "vigorous" municipal swimming programs for Alberta's record.

More than 150 full- and part-time instructors work in Edmonton, among them Bonnie Derome, national synchronized swimming champion in 1961, who also placed fifth in the 1965 world surfing contest.

In the pre-school program, mothers go into the pools with their children and support them while instructors show them how to acclimate their children to water and teach them to swim.

"When they're supported they automatically kick," Mr. Boddington says. "And then they discover they're moving. They also get orientated to water, get used to having their heads go under and being splashed."

"We also have a lot of five- and six - year - olds who can make it without their mothers to help them. Many are graduates of our pre-school class."

The city's program operates all year at four indoor pools and during summer at five outdoor pools as well. The system went $120,000 into the red in 1961.

Nomadic Lapps Settling Down

G A E L L I V A R E, Sweden

(Reuters)—Hundreds of northern Sweden's nomadic Lapps are turning to regular jobs because serious losses of reindeer have crippled them financially. Many people here fear the nomads, as such, may soon disappear entirely.

Now numbering fewer than 30,000, the Lapps tend more often to discard their picturesque national dress with its colorful knee-length padded coat of bright-blue, red-and-yellow and topped by a pom-pom cap in favor of blue overalls.

Losses of reindeer due to an exceptional winter early this year have been larger than ever before with some herds reduced to half their size. Their owners, facing ruin, are selling out and applying for work on the roads, railroads and in a large iron-ore mine.

Mill Odor Unliked

VANCOUVER (CP)—Pulp mill odors are a nuisance, but research so far has failed to find them injurious to human health, an industry official said Tuesday.

Pulp makers are doing "all that is necessary and economically feasible" to check air pollution in B.C., said R. F. Patterson, general manager of Canadian Forest Products Ltd. He spoke at a convention of the Air Pollution Control Association.

The seven major pulp companies are spending about $54,000 a year on a joint research program conducted by the B. C. Research Council.

Mr. Patterson said B.C. is producing more than 4,000 tons of marketable pulp a day.

"This is a good piece of the B.C. economy, and we don't want to do anything that would hurt our world markets. But we will do whatever is necessary."

Dr. G. H. Bonham, director of the North Shore health unit, said a barrier to better air quality in B.C. is the failure to separate industry from residential communities. There was a lack of provincial legislation correcting the problem.

He said medical research has failed to provide convincing data of the effects of air pollution on health.

Chief's Pleas Cut On Sark

SARK, Channel Islands (AP)—Taxes are down on the Isle of Sark. The parliament, known as the Chief Pleas, has cut the rate about a penny in the pound. That means roughly that for every $3 a man paid before, he'll now pay $2.98.

Sark has no income tax, but something called the atom tax. That has no sinister nuclear significance. Atom stands for "a tax of money."

It's arrived at by guessing how much money and property a man may have. It pays to look shabby.

Sark's static population is 498, of whom between 100 and 120 pay tax.

Women are not required to pay taxes unless they are widows of obvious substance and wealth. Neither are working men.

The tax to be levied is decided upon by a group called the Douzaine, 12 good Sark men and true, including the president of the island parliament, William Baker.

At an annual meeting the Douzaine decides who should pay what. Each November the taxpayers are given demand notes for their taxes and they must pay up by the end of the month.

The average tax works out between $54 and $70.

The island's virtual queen, called the Dame of Sark, is Mrs. Sibyl Hathaway, the widow of an American, Robert Woodward Hathaway.

During the German occupation of Sark in the Second World War, the dame played a vital role. Through extremely delicate diplomatic relations, she talked the Germans into many concessions for the islanders.

Major Problem Facing Husbands: How To Get More Lunch Money

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the biggest unsolved problems of the North American husband today is how to get more lunch money from his wife.

Here and there you still find an old-fashioned male who controls the family finances and puts his wife on a skimpy household allowance, for which she must render to him strict accounting.

But in most homes it operates the other way. The husband meekly brings home his weekly pay cheque in his mouth. His wife, after patting him on the head, deposits the cheque in the bank.

Some wives on Monday give their husbands the funds that are supposed to last them through the week. Other wives dole the allowance out daily in a pinch — penny fashion after breakfast.

But some husbands seem to be in a rebellious mood about their luncheon allowances, judging by a bull session at an office water cooler I overheard recently.

"I've been married 25 years and in that time the boss has given me five merit raises," countered a marital veteran. "But how many merit raises has my wife given me in that time — Not one."

"A quarter of a century she started giving me 50 cents a day for lunch, and it was okay then. I could get a three-course dinner for 45 cents, and that left me with a nickel to buy a cigar afterward."

"But she still gives me only four bits a day, and nowadays you're lucky to get a peanut butter sandwich for that."

RAIDS PIGGY BANK
"I know what you mean," remarked another husband. "The only way I've been able to stay alive is to shake a couple of quarters out of my kid's piggy bank every night and put in a couple of washers to replace them. But that can't go on much longer. The kid's getting wise."

"My wife thinks I'm keeping another woman on the dough she gives me for lunch," said a third. "But if I had a mistress I could afford her because I haven't enough to supply her with bird seed."

Wives don't seem to realize that a 1940 luncheon allowance won't fill a man's stomach in 1963. It won't even take out the wrinkles in it.

The so-called three-martini, five-course, two-hour business-man's lunch is a myth. The luncheon allowance many wives give their husbands wouldn't keep them welcome for more than 15 minutes on a Bowery beanery stool.

In the long run, however, the wives are really hurting themselves. If the average husband isn't passed out a little more folding money to buy himself a decent mid-day meal, he soon won't be able to bring home the bacon—because he won't have the strength to tote it.

SWINGING PARTNERS

By M. J. I.

It was party night in the Winfield Community Hall on Saturday night when the Circle "K" Square Dance Club of Kelowna were the hosts. George Fyall of Kelowna called the dance and dancers attended from the various Valley clubs.

Saturday, Nov. 6, we again have two party nights in the Valley, in the Winfield Community Hall the Kelowna Wagon Wheelers will host their party with Jim McPherson of Vancouver calling the dance, and a buffet supper will be provided.

In the Penitentiary High School cafeteria, the Peach City Promenaders will host their monthly dance in the Legion Hall in Penitentiary. Don Krebs will call this dance and a buffet supper will be provided.

Saturday, Nov. 13, we have one party night in the Valley, the Westside Squares will host their party in the Westbank Community Hall. Ed Stephan of Spokane will call their dance and a buffet supper will be provided.

Glaning to Saturday, Nov. 20, the Wheel 'N' Stars Club of Penitentiary will host their monthly dance in the Legion Hall in Penitentiary. Don Krebs will call this dance and a buffet supper will be provided.

MOVE TO CLEAN BATHS

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia has asked indignantly why public bathhouses aren't up to scratch — "as being built now aren't as good as those dating from Czarist days, the paper said, and to designed only for show. The drainage is bad, the equipment old and they are not kept clean."

NO-TEARS GIRL WINS AWARD

LONDON (AP) — A girl who can't cry since she was hit by a truck won £11,300 ($32,900) in a court suit today.

Tearless Iris Clark, 19, was unable even to weep for joy. In court Monday when the case began, Iris told the judge:

"There are times when I'd like to cry, but I can't." "Why not?" asked the judge.

"Just can't," said Iris. The girl's lawyer, Michael Eastman, told the court:

"She was struck down by a van three years ago. Through a head injury she lost her capacity for tears."

Iris then told Sir Daniel Barbican:

"I used to love cooking, swimming, cycling and dancing. I don't go cycling anymore because I'm frightened of the roads. I have no interest in cooking because I've lost my sense of smell. I have been to dances and listened, but I haven't danced."

Iris sued the owners of the van for damages, claiming the left side of her face is partly paralysed because of being struck by the truck.

Famous Babies Settle Down

AUCKLAND (CP) — New Zealand's most famous babies—the Lawson quintuplets — now are well established in a home specially provided for them. The babies, tended by their parents and devoted staff, are coming along fine.

The big transfer from the National Women's Hospital, Auckland, where the babies were born, came when the quintuplets were 10 weeks old.

Until then they had been cared for in the premature ward by a team of doctors and nurses. A continuous film record had been kept of their progress, endless still photographs taken for medical records and a vast array of statistics recorded for learned papers in medical publications. The quintuplets must be among the most comprehensively documented babies in history.

Now the babies live in a big two-storey house set in its own spacious grounds in the outer Auckland suburb of Henderson. The house was previously an obstetric hospital. By chance the only other child of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Lawson, six-year-old daughter Leanna, was born in the house when it was used as a hospital.

Lakeview Heights W.I. Elect Officers For Coming Year

Mrs. Eric Brown gave a report of the year's activities of the Lakeview Heights Women's Institute at their November meeting held in the WI hall on Monday evening. These included two very successful rummage sales, catering for several mother's teas, a strawberry tea held at Mrs. Charles Henderson's home, and several bake sales.

A donation was made to the Kelowna Hospital Fair and a WI cook book prize was given to the student with the top mark in Home Economics at George Pringle Secondary School.

The hall, which is maintained by the members, has been used by the Sunday school, and for many meetings and parties for other district organizations and clubs.

The annual election of officers was held and Mrs. Henderson was elected as treasurer for another year. Mrs. Bill Darroch, correspondence secretary, and Mrs. Malcolm Greenwood, recording secretary.

Mrs. Brown agreed to remain as the officer of president until Mrs. Roy Sandberg is able to take over in February. The position of vice-president is still to be filled.

A rummage sale was arranged for Saturday, Nov. 26 and anyone having suitable articles for rummage is asked to leave them at Mrs. Brown's house or at the hall on Nov. 18 or call any WI member for collection.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Greenwood and Mrs. Fred Miligan. A pot luck supper is planned for the December meeting to be held at Mrs. Charles Henderson's home.

Wifely Protest
CARACAS (AP) — Venezuelan husbands who kill two-wimpering wives would get a legal break under a bill approved by the senate.

They no longer would be charged with homicide, like 300 men whose cases are pending. Conviction might mean only six months in jail instead of the 30 years that is the maximum under present law.

Now Venezuelan women are demanding equal shooting rights. "If they can shoot us in an act of adultery and go almost unpunished by law, why can't we do the same?" a woman lawyer, Rosa Brunstein, indignantly asked the lawmakers.

The bill still is subject to approval by the Chamber of Deputies. Perhaps the chamber will pass it, but the pressure of women's groups suggests it may be pigeonholed.

As drawn up in the senate, the bill says:

"He will not be guilty of homicide or injury, who, finding his wife in the act of adultery, kills or injures her or her accomplices or both. Sentence in this case would be no more than three years and not less than six months."

APPLIES TO RELATIVES
The same applies to a brother, or other male relative who, in his own home, finds a woman in sexual intercourse with a man.

Penalties amounting to legalizing the death penalty in Venezuela, was the comment of another woman lawyer, Mercedes Omerna.

A prominent woman politician vowed to mobilize her party's "female masses in defence of the rights of women which this government has taken away."

A woman deputy of the Democratic Popular Front, Petra de Aranguren, said, "This law is a violation of our rights."

Lawyer Brunstein said the earliest solution in divorce. She said divorces would even reduce the conceivable number of murders should women be given the right to avenge the family honor with a .45.

"The law always condemns women, but all men are adulterers," she said.

ANN LANDERS

Ann Figures Advice Is Sane And Sound!

Dear Ann Landers: I just read your answer to the 15-year-old girl who writes her finger-salts way down. You said, "When you find out what's eating you, you'll stop eating your nails. Get professional help."

Almost every day in your screwball column you are telling someone to get professional help. Pray tell, Ann Landers, what is eating YOU? If you had your way, every third person in the United States and Canada would be going to a psychiatrist.

In the first place there are not enough psychiatrists to go around. In the second place they are too blooming expensive. In the third place, most psychiatrists are nuttier than a fruit cake and THEY need professional help.

Isn't it barely possible that the girl who bites her nails is a little nervous? I've known people who have bitten their nails all their lives and never ended up in the hatch.

Yours for sane and sounder advice—ALSO A NAIL BITER.
Dear Also: Some nail-biters aren't concerned about the habit, but the girl who wrote wanted advice and I offered it. YOU would probably chew your nails up to the elbow before you'd admit something was bothering you.

True, there aren't enough psychiatrists to go around but this is no reason not to recommend professional help.

Psychiatry is not the sure-cure for all mankind's ills, but it has restored many writhed, useless people to a life of productivity and contentment and I support it.

Dear Ann Landers: I have a problem you've never heard of. My husband thinks he is a race horse. Harry refuses to eat anything but oats. When I serve him delicious T-bone steaks and double-thick lamb chops he snorts and refuses to settle down until I slip a bag of oats around his neck.

Harry thinks he won the Kentucky Derby. Last night he was repeating the Derby story and one of the listeners who has known Harry all his life said, "Are you saying you RODE the winner of the Derby?" My husband replied, "Rode nothing. . . I WAS the winner."

Ann, what am I going to do? Now he wants me to sleep in the barn and it's getting very cold. Don't tell me to take him to a psychiatrist. He won't go to anyone but a veterinarian—DESPERATE.

Dear Desperate: So your husband thinks he's a horse? Well, you have a more serious problem. YOU think you are a comedian. Get a part time job and stop wasting my time with phony letters.

Dear Ann Landers: A recent column has stirred up considerable conflict among my friends. I am referring to your statement that the parents of the bride-bride should be invited to the wedding. "No matter how small the church is."

We believe such advice is small-townish and impractical. Often the guest list must be abbreviated because of family obligations on both sides. This means many friends must be omitted — close friends at that — and it is hoped that they will understand.

Does it make sense then, that the parents of the bride and groom are often nodding acquaintances for total strangers be invited simply so they can enjoy themselves seeing their darling daughter in the wedding procession?

Your advice is usually pretty sound, Ann, but this time I think you should eat your words—VOICE FROM THE 50TH FLOOR.
Dear Voice: Gulp, Gulp!

Girls Have Better Sex Education Says Director Of Medical Services

MONTREAL (CP) — Girls receive a much better sex education than boys, says Dr. Douglas Cram, director of medical services for the board of education in London, Ont.

Dr. Cram, interviewed Monday during the second Canadian conference on children in progress here, said the reason is that "mothers are much more communicative in this field than fathers."

The pediatrician, discussing the sex education course given to all Grade 9 and 10 students in London schools, said teachers, however, have discovered about sex among their students.

He said the sex education course, begun as far back as 1947 by a teacher-course, now is taught mainly by physical education teachers as part of a health program, with gynecologists and obstetricians as special lecturers on a rotation basis.

Engagement Announced
WILKINSON — MURRAY
Mrs. W. Wilkinson announces the engagement of her daughter Wylio Joan to Richard Murray, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Murray of Kelowna.

The young couple were both former Kelownians who have moved recently to the Coast, and the wedding will take place at St. James United Church in Vancouver on Nov. 20 at 7 p.m.

"Obstetricians became concerned enough to take time to talk to the students because they found a tremendous lack of knowledge about sex," he said. "Pregnant girls who come to them did not seem to realize why they were in that position."

There was "a real drive for sex education today." School boards receive many letters asking for information on courses.

Vernon's United Appeal Gifts Reach Halfway To Objective

VERNON — Up to and including Nov. 3, 1966, receipts for the 1966 Vernon and District United Appeal campaign totalled $28,500. Quota is $40,000; however, officials say a number of cancellations have not yet been received and they are confident the quota will be reached when a final accounting is made.

It will be "open house" Nov. 4 at 7 p.m. in the air cadet hall at Vernon Army Camp, when members of Vernon Air Cadet Squadron No. 223 will be hosts to their parents and friends, including members of Vernon Rotary Club, the organization's sponsor. This weekend, Nov. 5-6, the squadron will journey to Mount Lolo, near Kamloops.

Out in Cherryville, there will be a turkey shoot on Sunday, at the corner of Highway No. 6 and Sugar Lake Rd. As well as turkeys, sides of bacon are on the prize list. This is a good opportunity for aimers to try for a turkey for Christmas.

There will be a two-day senior English workshop on Nov. 12 and 13, in the W. L. Seaton Junior Secondary School. This workshop is for teachers only, and it will be directed by Lee C. Mendosa, teacher of English at the school.

Miss Sharon Dowe, B.N., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Dowe, of Livingston, will go to Kelowna to join the first all-Canadian medical team to go to that country under CARE-MEDICO. As surgical nurse, Miss Dowe will supervise the operating theatre there. She is a 1963 graduate of the Royal Columbia Hospital, New Westminster.

Peachland Legion Makes Plan To Mark Time Of Remembrance

PEACHLAND — The Royal Canadian Legion, branch 60, held their monthly meeting in the Legion Hall on Monday.

The Nov. 11 Remembrance Day service will again be held at the Cenotaph with the Rev. N. Tanner of Sumnerland conducting. Ross Outman of Kelowna is the bugler. Wreath placing will take place by the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 60 Ladies Auxiliary to the Legion, the municipality and other organizations will follow. Assembly will take place at the Legion Hall at 10:30 a.m. and parade to the Cenotaph at 10:45. The Legion Hall will be open following the service as long as is required by the veterans and their guests.

Oyama Fruit Union Staff Honors Departing Members

OYAMA — Forty-five past and present workers from the Oyama plant of the Vernon Fruit Union, gathered Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Duggan to honor two employees of their number who have been recently forced to retire due to ill health.

Mrs. Dorothy Puttallo was presented with an electric pole lamp by Mrs. Alice Heddle, past office secretary. Mrs. Puttallo has been a packing house worker since 1939, 37 of these years for the Vernon Fruit Union, both as a packer and as packer supervisor.

Mrs. Julianna Knusel was the recipient of an electric frying pan presented to her by Mrs. Hattie Vollmerhaus of the sorting room crew. Mrs. Knusel lives in Vernon and travelled to Oyama to work on the sorting table for 10 years.

Refreshments were served from a buffet table decorated with yellow and bronze mums from Mrs. Duggan's garden. All those present wished these two ladies improved health in the coming years even if they cannot be with the crew as fellow workers again. Special guests invited for the afternoon were Mrs. Alice Heddle, Mrs. Mabel Sproule, Mrs. Margaret Shupler, and Mrs. Margaret Kornisky, all who had worked with these honorees for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Thomson have returned from Calgary where they attended the graduation ceremony of their niece Miss Carol Lake from the Calgary General Hospital School of Nursing. Mr. Thomson also visited his father who is still recovering after a recent illness.

Toastmistresses Mark Hallowe'en

VERNON — Fun and games at Hallowe'en was the theme of the Kalamalka Toastmistresses meeting held at the Coldstream Hotel on Oct. 28. Guests decorated to resemble pack-lanterns were donated by the Okanagan Leading Brownies, and their whimsical faces interspersed with pumpkin jack-o-lanterns along the tables created a gay atmosphere.

President Mrs. J. Poutyrah, welcomed the members and guests. Mrs. John Doreau as Toastmistress kept the Hallowe'en spirit alive during the evening. Club representative Mrs. F. Worth gave a report on the council meeting at Vancouver.

In November, Kalamalka Toastmistresses Club will attend a meeting in Kelowna. Topic mistress was Mrs. Alex McCarter. Mrs. Roy Koch gave her maiden speech and Mrs. R. O'Connell gave a prepared speech. Valuations for the speeches were Mrs. C. Ansell, Mrs. A. Sheln, and Mrs. C. Noble, and Mrs. Frank Stewart was general evaluator. Mrs. Koch won the cup for the most enjoyable performance of the evening with her "maiden" speech. Guests were Mrs. Bruce Hinchard, Mrs. R. W. Campbell, Mrs. A. Hubbard, Mrs. E. C. Roberts and Mrs. B. Rutland Hallowe'en Party Went Off With Big Bangs

RUTLAND — The annual Hallowe'en party, held by the Rutland Park Society for the second year, on Sunday, proved a highly successful affair.

A crowd of youngsters estimated at 500 or more turned out, and some 200 adults as well. The fireworks display, under the supervision of the Rutland Fire Brigade was better than ever, and lasted some 20 minutes or more, to the accompaniment of choruses of "Ooohs" and "Aahhs" from the assembled youngsters.

There were a large number of youngsters entering in the contests for the various prizes for the best costumes, and the judges, Rutland's "Miss McIntosh", Miss Linda Cross and her two princesses, Audrey Gibbons andileen Howt, had quite a difficult task choosing the winners.

After the presentations, Mr. Wally Hanes, president of the Rutland Park Society, presented the three judges with boxes of chocolates. Prize winners in the various classes were as follows: Four years of age and under—girls, Myrae Felty; boys, Randy Faulk.

Five years of age—Maryanne Leechka, Grant Kaga. Six years of age—Andre Peters, Doug Fowler. Seven years of age—Kathy Brown, Bruce Rieger. Eight years of age—Peggy Mallick, Daryl Hanes. Postmaster General To Appear As Witness At Denis' Hearing

OTTAWA (CP)—Postmaster-General Rene Tremblay has been subpoenaed as a witness at the preliminary hearing of Raymond Denis, his former executive assistant, on charges arising out of the Dennis judicial inquiry.

The order to appear in court for the hearing which opens Thursday is expected to pull Mr. Tremblay, immigration minister when Denis worked as his assistant, out of the current federal election campaign in the Quebec riding of Montcalm-Matane.

Denis is to appear for preliminary hearing on two charges connected with efforts to obtain bail for Lucien Rivard, recently convicted in Texas on narcotics smuggling charges, while he was being held in Montreal for U.S. authorities.

The charges say Denis:

1. "Did unlawfully and corruptly" offer a "sum of money" to Montreal lawyer Pierre Lamontagne, acting for the U.S. to have him drop opposition to bail for Rivard.
2. "Did unlawfully and wilfully attempt to obstruct the course of justice by attempting to dissuade" Mr. Lamontagne from opposing bail.

Denis was released on cash bail of $1,000 after arraignment here July 15.

RENE TREMBLAY
... to be witness

The charges were brought against Denis after Chief Justice Frederic Durois of Quebec Superior Court spent weeks hearing testimony about allegations of use of influence and attempted bribery in connection with the Rivard case.

Each charge carries a maximum sentence of two years imprisonment.

Princess Readies For U.S. Journey

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret packed a secret wardrobe for her first visit to the United States.

The princess and her husband Lord Snowdon arrive Thursday in San Francisco (6:30 p.m. PST) for a three-week tour.

The Snowdons picked Nov. 4 for their departure so they could be at tonight's fourth wedding party for their son, Lord Lincol.

The Snowdons' second child, Lady Sarah Armstrong-Jones, will be two next year.

British correspondents in the United States already are telling their readers here the "West Coast seems gripped by the 'Miss Margaret' with the social set scrambling for invitations to meet the princess.

What Princess Margaret will wear at parties and such well-publicized events as the Nov. 8 World Adoption Fund ball in Los Angeles will remain secret until the last minute.

HAS FREE TIME

A feature of the 26-day trip is that considerable time has been left free for private and spontaneous engagements.

Her guide on these "non-occasions" will be her friend Sherman Douglas, daughter of Lewis Douglas, still remembered as one of the most popular American ambassadors.

Miss Douglas will be the hostess for four days of relaxation at her father's Arizona ranch. Nothing has been planned for this part of the visit except a barbecue, and perhaps a flight to Texas if the president is not recovered enough to receive the royal pair at a formal White House dinner.

The princess will first set foot on U.S. soil Thursday afternoon in New York, and after a 90-minute airport stopover will fly on to San Francisco.

The same evening the princess and her husband will meet the press at the San Francisco Press Club.

After parties and functions around the bay area, they move on to Los Angeles Saturday. There they will give a brief press conference.

ATTEND FUND BALL

Next Monday is the ball of the World Adoption Fund, and Tuesday the couple visit California Tech and the Jet Propulsion Laboratory.

Wednesday, Nov. 9, they begin their visit to the Douglas ranch at Tucson. Next stop is Washington, arriving at 3 p.m. EST Monday, Nov. 15. That evening they will be guests of the National Press Club and the Women's National Press.

On the following day they are scheduled to place a wreath on President Kennedy's grave, visit George Washington's home at Mount Vernon and attend various British parties.

Wednesday, Nov. 17, Princess Margaret will have tea with Mrs. Edward Kennedy and meet the wives of U.S. senators. That evening comes the White House dinner with President and Mrs. Johnson.

From Washington, on to New York to be the guests of another former American ambassador to Britain, John Hay Whitney, publisher of the New York Herald Tribune.

Another press conference, and visits to the United Nations, the Metropolitan Museum of Art and the Lincoln Centre for the Performing Arts round out the New York program before the Snowdons fly to a holiday in Bermuda Nov. 24.

Ottawa's Plans Set For Nov. 11

OTTAWA (CP)—Two service bands and 500 servicemen will honor the country's war dead Nov. 11 in Remembrance Day ceremonies at the National War Memorial.

Two minutes of silence beginning at 11 a.m. will be signalled by shots from two 185-millimeter howitzers.

Present will be 100-man contingents of the 4th regiment, Royal Canadian Horse Artillery from Camp Petawawa, Ont., HMCS Gloucester in Ottawa, and armmen from Uplands and Rockcliffe stations here.

A 100-man Ottawa militia contingent also will march.

Gas Revenue Aids Alberta

EDMONTON (CP)—The Alberta government today reported a net surplus of $79,677,434 for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1965, compared with an estimated deficit of $2,715,000.

Provincial auditor Keith MacVale said:

"It is entirely due, or almost entirely due, to petroleum and natural gas revenues."

These revenues totalled $282,034,959 for the fiscal year, up $69,855,958 from original estimates.

Actual expenditure for the budget year totalled $359,362,029, down $13,996,069 from budget estimates.

Main drops in expenditure were $6,141,000 in hospital operation and $2,370,333 in hospital construction grants.

The rate of use dropped off," Mr. MacVale said. "There was less use compared with the previous year."

Thirty Frenchmen Killed In Crash

Some Marshall Islanders Said Victims Of Radiation Accident

WASHINGTON (AP)—A government doctor says some natives in the Marshall Islands are beginning to show thyroid gland damage from an accidental drenching of an American airplane during an American airplane test.

Dr. Robert Rossard told the Washington Post there also is evidence that fallout damage to the thyroid gland may be causing an observed stunting of growth among children subjected to the drenching in March 1954.

Conard is the leader of a medical survey team that commutes between Brookhaven National Laboratory on Long Island and Rongelap Island in the Marshalls. He is in charge of treating the islanders for thyroid damage.

The finding was viewed as meaning estimates of hazard from short-lived radioactive debris will have to be revised upward. This is the kind of fallout—such as radioactive iodine—which persons near blast areas may absorb through food and drink.

SWEET CARS OFF STREET

Israel's Levi Eshkol A Pioneer In Building State For Jews

TEL AVIV (Reuters)—Levi Eshkol, Israel's prime minister since June, 1963, is one of the pioneer builders of the Jewish state.

He was born Levi Eshkol in a Ukrainian village near Kiev 76 years ago. Like many Israeli leaders, he Hebraized his name.

He arrived in Palestine in 1914 when it was under Turkish rule and has been active in public affairs ever since.

After the First World War in which he volunteered for service in a British Jewish battalion, he helped to found a Kibbutz (communal settlement) in the Jordan Valley, which he still regards as home.

He became director-general of the defence ministry under David Ben-Gurion, then defence minister as well as prime minister.

In 1961, Ben-Gurion brought Eshkol into the cabinet as agriculture and development minister and the next year he moved him to the finance ministry.

GOOT THINGS DONE

There Eshkol became known as a shrewd bargainer and a man who got things done. With his ability as a conciliator, Eshkol often acted for Ben-Gurion remote and self-centered became the prime minister's logical successor.

There is a great contrast between their personalities. Ben-Gurion recede and self-centered, Eshkol a jovial optimist who by charm and humor avoids making enemies.

Eshkol has been married three times and has four daughters.

Gagliardi Mingles Praises With Barbs For Party Leaders

JASPER, Alta. (CP)—Philip Gagliardi, British Columbia highways minister, had some barbed praise for Prime Minister Pearson and Opposition leader Diefenbaker here Wednesday night.

Speaking on behalf of Social Credit candidates in the Nov. 8 federal election, Mr. Gagliardi described Mr. Pearson as an honest man whose policies left much to be desired.

He said the prime minister fits well into a ladies' tea party, where his diplomacy is admired.

Mr. Gagliardi commended Mr. Diefenbaker as a hard-working man who had made a great contribution to the Canadian nation.

"But his visions on development which he commendably sold to the entire nation, were never activated by his leader."

ship," Gagliardi said. "Since Diefenbaker is so interested in the old-age pension, perhaps we should give it to him, and send him home."

The B.C. highways minister had no praise at all for T. C. Douglas, leader of the New Democratic Party.

"It took Saskatchewan 20 years to discover that Tommy Douglas was not fit to be in power, and they finally disposed of him."

Mr. Gagliardi said good-hearted B. C. had accepted Douglas, "but it will not take B.C. 20 years to rid themselves of the socialistic ideals of the NDP and its leader."

Mr. Gagliardi said a spearhead of Social Crediters in the next federal Parliament could influence future policy for a harmonious and unified Canada.

Thompson Heads For B.C. Drive To Garner Voters To Socreds

RED DEER (CP)—After a four-day stay in his native province, Social Credit leader Robert Thompson moves into British Columbia today on the last lap of his federal election campaign.

He is to make speeches in the Kamloops area before going on Friday to Vancouver for a meeting with Premier W. A. C. Bennett and a speech before a party luncheon.

He winds up his formal schedule with appearances at Banff and Calgary Friday night.

Mr. Thompson closed his campaign in his own riding of Red Deer Wednesday by sharing political platform with Alberta Premier E. C. Manning.

About 650 persons were in the 850-seat Memorial Centre here for the rally, held for all Social Credit candidates in Central Alberta.

The Social Credit leader said Wednesday he feared Canadians won't bother to vote Nov. 8.

He had noticed apathy among Canadians as he travelled from coast to coast. It was an election Canadians didn't want, one called only for political expediency. But he urged Canadians to "stand up and be counted on voting day."

Writ Handed Two Canadians

PORTSMOUTH, England (CP)—Two Canadian sailors were served today with a writ for damages aboard the Canadian supply ship Provider.

The writ, ordered by the high court of Northern Ireland, demands that Kenneth Magill, 22, and Wayne Blair, 20, members of the Provider crew, appear in Belfast court in four weeks in connection with a taxi driver's charges the two Canadians had attacked him and left him with injuries which prevented him from operating a cab.

The two men have already been fined for the incident which took place while the sailors were on leave in Belfast late last month. The question to be decided is whether they should pay damages.

The writ was served aboard ship because the Provider sails for Halifax Thursday. A ship spokesman said the two sailors will sail with the ship and it will be decided later whether they will be represented in Belfast.

Hellyer Reports On Army Buildup

NORTH BAY, Ont. (CP)—Defence Minister Hellyer says a military buildup will begin here next summer.

Personnel will be moving to North Bay probably from Air Defence Command at St. Hubert, Que., he told an overflow crowd of 350 at a hotel auditorium here Wednesday night.

The announcement was good news for the area which suffered an economic setback last year when 414 Fighter Squadron RCAF was disbanded. Several hundred air force personnel were involved.

Mr. Hellyer, speaking on behalf of Liberal candidate Carl Legault, who is seeking re-election in the Oct. 8 general election for Nipissing, did not indicate the extent of the summer military buildup.

One thing about daily newspapers:

they give you the whole story

Television and radio are fine for immediate news bulletins. But when you want the whole story, you reach for the daily newspaper. And you're in good company, because most people do exactly that. In a recent survey, validated by the Canadian Advertising Research Foundation, 55% of the people interviewed chose daily newspapers as the source of most complete information. Further, 31% regarded television, and 49% regarded radio, as media from which "you must be missing a lot when you get things in such a condensed version."

Yes, whether it's news of events in Southeast Asia... Chamber of Commerce meetings in your home town... or Sally Winter's wedding... you reach for your daily paper to get all the details. And you get them.

The same holds true for advertising. Because they're not time-bound, newspaper ads can tell you more, and you can read them in your own sweet time. Two good reasons why so many people like newspaper advertising. And people do. 83% in the survey said they use newspaper ads as a shopping guide. And 41% find them reliable, as opposed to only 16% who find television ads reliable, and 5% who rely on radio ads.

Most advertisers are aware of these facts. Which is why so many use daily newspapers to tell you about their products and services. Smart move, when you consider it. Using daily newspapers, they can give you the whole story.

The Kelowna Daily Courier

SPORTS SPOTLIGHT

By BON HOLLAND

Scotland is generally acknowledged as the "Home of Curling." After an all time brief visit to the Kelowna Curling Club "members" there has been a change and that Canada now means supreme as Curling Capital of the World.

The fact that more than 600 Kelowna residents curl at least once a week. High schoolers play once a week. Women curl regularly led me to make the above statement that Canada is indeed the curling capital.

One other indication of the prominence of curling as a major sport is the presence of five major national championship tournaments that will be held during the months of March and April.

The Granddaddy of them all is the Canadian Curling Championships better known as the McDonald Brier. Kelowna curlers will commence their long road to Brier in January with the Zone three playdowns. Winner of this competition will advance to the B.C. Curling Association playdowns slated for Kelowna February 6-12. With the completion of the BOCA playdowns a provincial winner will be named February 14, at Vancouver. Then on to Halifax for the finals and naming of a Canadian Curling Champion.

Next we have the Diamond D championships for women, this year slated to be played in Vancouver. Last year a Kelowna rink skipped by Leslie Connell captured the B.C. title and journeyed to Charlottetown for the Dominion playdowns. Although not successful in capturing the championship, Mrs. Connell's rink was the top in B.C. has stimulated women's curling in Kelowna.

The third and, to me, most interesting playdowns will feature the Seniors Seagram Show playdowns to be played in Whistler. This competition is for men 55 years of age and over. Preliminary competition for Kelowna seniors will be held January 15-20. For interesting and good curling make a date to watch the Kelowna playdowns.

This year's OXO's Mixed championships will be held in Port Williams, March 21-24. For those not familiar with mixed curling, a rink must be made up of two men and two women filling alternate positions on the rink. It usually works out that the skip is male, the third female. In past years the mixed curlers have produced two different approaches to curling.

The final of the Seagram show playdowns are at this time up in the air. Dates for the Kelowna playdowns have not been announced. Last year a rink from Kelowna Secondary School made it all the way to the provincial playdowns. Skipped by Russell Connell the Kelowna rink lost in the finals held in Kamloops.

Culminating the 1966 curling season will be the playing of the World Scotty Cup championships in Vancouver Forum. Two years ago a Vancouver rink skipped by Lynn Dugg triumphed at the World Championships played in Calgary. Dugg's rink played others from the United States, Scotland, Sweden, Norway and Switzerland.

All in all it appears that Kelowna curling enthusiasts will be given top flight competition right up to the dates of the world matches at which time we shall all follow Canada's success in Vancouver.

School Soccer Slated For Oval

High school soccer will come to a close Saturday when Kelowna Ovals meet North Kamloops for the Okanagan Valley Soccer Championship.

Kelowna advanced to the Valley finals with a convincing 4-0 victory over Penticton last Saturday at City Park Oval. Kelowna marksmen were Ken Ross, Allan Clark, Herb Heide and John Anderson.

Kelowna's victory over Penticton was their seventh straight win in 1965 and their 15th straight over the past two years.

Last year Kelowna won the Valley title defeating North Kamloops 3-1 at Vernon.

Nelson On Top Beat Trail 5-3

TRAIL (CP)—Nelson Maple Leafs took over sole possession of first place in the Western International Hockey League with a 5-3 victory over Trail Smoke Eaters before about 1,000 fans Wednesday night.

Nelson goalkeepers were Danny Calles, Mike Laughlin, Leroy Mowery, Skip Holmes and Howie Horvath.

Harry Smith, Ken Kuehler and Jerry Penner replied for the fifth-place Smokeies.

The teams were deadlocked 1-1 after the first period but the Leafs took a 4-2 lead in the second.

Trail's Barry Richardson played an exceptional game in goal, stopping 30 shots. Nelson's Barry Brown made 21 saves.

Top European Skiers Coming

CALGARY (CP)—Seventeen top European skiers will join North American competitors in an international slalom competition at Banff and Quebec City next February. It was announced today.

Organizers said entries are expected from Austria, France, Germany, Italy, Norway, Poland, Sweden and Switzerland as well as Canada and the U.S.

The event, sponsored by a tobacco company and approved by the Canadian Amateur Ski Association, opens at Mount Norquay near Banff Feb. 13-15 with the first stage of slalom for men and women.

It continues at Mont Ste. Anne near Quebec Feb. 19-20 and over-all winners will be determined on the basis of total scores.

Dave Jacobs, coach of the Canadian national ski team which is training now in Nelson, predicted Canadian skiers will perform well in the international competition.

Kelowna, Vernon Meet For Title

Kelowna Cubs and Vernon Panthers square off Friday night in what shapes up to be the Cubs most crucial game of the year.

If the Cubs win they will be tied with Vernon for first place. A Cub loss will give the league title to the Panthers.

Earlier in the schedule Vernon throttled Kelowna 3-4 at Elks Stadium. Friday's game is also at Elks Stadium because of prior commitments for the Vernon ballpark.

Kelowna's defensive squad has come up with two big games in the past two weeks. Last week in Kamloops they held the Red Devils scoreless.

The previous week Penticton Golden Hawks were only able to score six points against the staunch Cub defense.

Vernon's offense will be paced by their big fullback Grant Kauback who scored two touchdowns in the club's last meeting. Dennis Caryk is also expected to give the Cubs some headshots.

Offensively the Cubs showed well last week in Kamloops. Even without their big gun Doug Pettman, his replacement Doug Mendenburger has done a good job and is expected to carry the ball quite a bit against Vernon.

Perry Stang was under the weather during practice this week but is expected to be fully recovered by game time. Gametime is 8 p.m. at Elks Stadium Friday night.

Roughies In Good Health For Western Semi Final

REGINA (CP)—Saskatchewan Roughriders head coach Eagle Keys reports linemen Ed Hoerster is the only doubtful starter for Sunday's Western Football Conference semi-final against Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

Hoerster is bothered by a bruised leg, suffered in Saskatchewan's 15-12 victory over Edmonton in the final game of the season.

Keys spent the season juggling players because of injuries which hit nearly every position but quarterback.

With a healthy team, he thinks Saskatchewan has a good chance to beat off Winnipeg in the sudden-death semi-final.

Keys said Martin Fabit, the league's leading punter, will be back after missing four games with a strained Achilles tendon. This will mean he'll be available at home.

Ottawa Injury List Shrinks Ready For Montreal Game

OTTAWA (CP)—Ottawa's been out of action in past games. Linebacker Mike Blum and defensive halfback Don Gilbert were back for the scrimmage.

Halfback Ed Scott, sidelined with an ankle injury, was running well, and tackle, Moe Racine, runner-up in the KFC scoring race, was reported recovering from a pinched nerve in his leg. Racine's only appearance Saturday was for a convert.

Riders still have Jim Conroy on the injured list, but the all-star linebacker has been out since the first game of the season. He comes off the injury reserve list Sunday and would be eligible for the finals and Grey Cup game if the Riders get that far and if his damaged knee has healed.

But Clair said earlier he doubted Conroy, a Canadian, would be ready for action until next season.

Bruins' Rookie Goaltender Holds Chicago To Draw

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Boston Bruins, who played three games with three netminders without success, might be lucky with goalie No. 4.

Rookie Bernie Parent turned back 40 shots Wednesday night as the cellar-dwelling Bruins battled to a 2-3 tie with National Hockey League-leading Chicago Black Hawks.

Parent, 26, in his first year of professional hockey, was called up Tuesday from the Bruins' Central League farm team in Oklahoma City because both regular goalies, Ed Johnston and Gerry Cheevers, are injured.

In other NHL action Wednesday night, the Rangers and Toronto Maple Leafs fought to a 2-2 tie in New York.

The Hawks took the lead twice in the game only to have the Bruins come back with a goal each time.

Murray Oliver's goal at the 34-second mark of the third period pulled the Bruins into the deadlock. It came 30 seconds after Doug Moberg had put the Bruins in front with his sixth goal of the year.

Sandy Koufax Voted Top Major Pitcher

BOSTON (AP)—Left-hander Sandy Koufax, the backbone of Los Angeles Dodgers' drive for the National League pennant and the World Series, was a unanimous choice Wednesday as the winner of the Cy Young award as baseball's best pitcher for 1965.

Koufax, 30, was also a unanimous winner in 1963, the year he was named the National League's most valuable player.

Koufax compiled the best earned-run average in the major leagues, 2.04; the most wins, 20; the most innings pitched, 224, and the most strikeouts, 202.

His strikeout mark shattered Bob Feller's single-season record of 247.

Dean Chance of the American League's California Angels was the 1964 winner.

Three Tied For Top Spot In National League Scoring

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Doug Moberg, Chicago Black Hawk left-winger, scored a goal against Boston Bruins Wednesday night to move him into a three-way tie for first place in the National Hockey League's individual scoring race.

Moberg has six goals and five assists for 11 points. Also in first place with 11 points are Bobby Hull of Chicago and Bobby Rousseau of Montreal.

Hull, who was held pointless by Boston in Wednesday's 3-3 tie, has eight goals and three assists while Rousseau has three goals and eight assists.

Stan Mikita, also of Chicago, picked up an assist Wednesday night to give him eight points on one goal and seven assists.

Two Montreal Canadians —

Jean Beliveau and Jacques Laperriere — have seven points each. Beliveau has four goals and three assists while Laperriere's record is one goal and six assists.

Kenny Wharram, Chicago's right-winger, picked up a goal and an assist Wednesday. Wharram now has five goals and one assist for six points, tying him with Doug Robinson of New York, who has three goals and an equal amount of assists.

Outstanding Players Named In Schenley Award Ballot

MONTREAL (CP)—Defensive halfback Garney Henley of Hamilton Tiger-Cats and fullback George Reed of Saskatchewan Roughriders today were named the outstanding football players in the Eastern and Western conferences.

Henley, who joined Ticats from Green Bay Packers of the National League in 1960 and who has been a defensive stand-out, was named the best in the East in a ballot of football writers and broadcasters in the EFC cities of Hamilton, Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal.

Reed, who joined the Roughriders in 1963, was named his counterpart in the West by voters from the WFC cities of Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Edmonton and Vancouver.

Zeno Karcz, a rugged line-backer with Ticats, was named the outstanding Canadian player in the East, and teammate John Barrow, defensive tackle with the 1964 Grey Cup finalists, was named top lineman.

Linebacker Wayne Harris and defensive half Larry Robinson, both of Calgary Stampeders, were chosen the linemen of the year and Canadian player of the year, respectively in the West.

A further ballot will be held among voters in the nine Canadian Football League cities to name the winner in each category from among the six named today.

Unprecedented Storage Plan Announced By Grain Company

WINNIPEG (CP)—The National Grain Company today announced an unprecedented plan to waive storage charges for grain deliveries in "a last-ditch" effort to move more dry grain to Lakehead ports for export.

George Hoffmeyer, president, told a press conference he expected other line elevator companies to follow the move and added National has asked the Canadian wheat board to institute a supplementary quota for dry grain.

National has waived storage charges for the period Nov. 1 to Dec. 15 in hopes farmers will co-operate by delivering dry grain which they would otherwise keep on farms until after the new year.

Loss in revenue to the company could be substantial, Mr. Hoffmeyer said, but he would not estimate figures.

Adverse harvest conditions this year resulted in much of the grain threshed having high moisture content. Farmers tend to sell this wheat first.

Some of Canada's largest export contracts, notably the massive contract for 20,000,000 bushels of wheat to Russia, call for dry grain which means high moisture grain must be dried before exporting, slowing turnover at terminals.

The wheat board ordered Manitoba and Saskatchewan elevator agents to limit shipments to dry grain until the end of the navigation season, usually in mid-December.

Mr. Hoffmeyer said delivery of farm-bred grain usually falls off in late fall as farmers attempt to hold income down for tax purposes.

Until National's plan, farmers would deliver dry grain on a storage basis, signing a release which would allow the elevator company to move it to its terminal. Although it would be exported immediately, the farmer would, in effect, sell the

Dear Mr. Becker: Many years ago I was playing in a rubber bridge game and had the West hand. The passage of time has blurred my memory and I do not recall the bidding, but I do remember that the final contract was Six Notrump played by South. I likewise remember the hand, card for card because of the indelible impression it made upon me at the time.

It was the luckiest hand I ever encountered in all my experience. I led a spade and South took the king with the ace. He played a diamond to the ten, the double finesse succeeding, after which he played a club to the ten, the double finesse again succeeding.

There would be no point to my bothering you with the rest of the play because, as you can see, the double finesse in every suit worked and South made thirteen tricks—in fact, he had a trick to spare at the end.

Well, believe it or not, I was playing rubber bridge the other day and picked up the South Hand. I recognized it immediately as the same hand held against me so many years ago.

Quaking with excitement, I opened the bidding with a club. When my partner bid a diamond, I was certain that this was the identical hand that had haunted me ceaselessly through the years. I jumped to seven notrump, and when West doubled, I redoubled.

West led the two of hearts and this turned out to be the complete deal:

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

Some adverse planetary influences make it important to be extremely tactful in personal relationships on Friday. The position of Mars, especially, will make those born under some Signs overly aggressive, so don't stop in "where angels fear to tread."

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that the next 12 months in your life should prove highly stimulating on practically all counts. As of this week you enter a fine planetary cycle which should prove most profitable where business and financial matters are concerned, and this cycle will last until the end of March. Further upturns along these lines are star-promised in early

July, all of next September and October.

One admonition, however: do limit unwise spending during early April, mid-May and early June or you could offset gains.

Personal relationships will be governed by generally good aspects during the next year, with emphasis on romance during the current month, in January, May, late June and late July; on travel and social interests next January, July and September. Those with creative leanings (especially in the theatrical field) will find next January, June and September highly inspiring—and profitable. A child born on this day will be endowed with great ambition and the talents required to be extremely successful in the business world, but will have to curb tendencies toward undue suspiciousness of his fellowmen.

HOW A PREMIERSHIP ALMOST ACHIEVED

Winch Reveals Old Secrets

VANCOUVER (CP)—The former socialist opposition leader in the British Columbia legislature Tuesday night told the story of how he for the orders of a federal official he would have become premier.

Harold Winch broke years of silence to tell this and two other heretofore unrevealed stories at a celebration honoring his 32nd anniversary in public life.

Mr. Winch is seeking re-election as New Democratic Party member of Parliament for Vancouver East. He was first elected to the B.C. legislature in 1933, was leader of the opposition from 1941 to 1953 when he resigned and entered federal politics.

His other two stories were of an attempt to "bribe" him to give up politics and of a time the Conservatives in the legislature attempted to "double-cross" the Liberals.

Mr. Winch said in 1952 Social Credit elected 19 members and the then CCF had 18. In the 1953 sitting of the legislature, the Social Credit government invited defeat by introducing a budget unacceptable to the Conservatives, which included a wage recommendation that included a 10 per cent increase.

"It is tradition, and custom, any in the British system of government, that if a government is defeated in the first sitting after an election the lieutenant-governor invites any party capable of forming the government to do so," Mr. Winch said.

Mr. Winch said the CCF could have formed that government because it had received promise of support from the Conservatives and Tom Uphill, the Independent.

He said he told the then lieutenant-governor, Clarence Wallace, he was prepared to form a government.

"He said, 'I'm sorry Mr. Winch, but you're not going to be invited to form a government. I have my instructions from the secretary of state at Ottawa that under no circumstances will the CCF be allowed to form a coalition government.'"

The secretary of state at the time was Liberal F. G. Bradley.

Mr. Winch said in 1952 after the Social Credit government was elected "the powers that be said that Winch had been around too long."

"A person approached me and said: 'If you'll get out of politics, we'll give you a lifetime contract at a wonderful salary. I don't need to tell you what my answer was to this bribe.' He said a history of B.C. politics he is writing will name names."

Mr. Winch said in 1941 no party had a majority and a "call went out to form a coalition."

"The CCF made it clear we would not enter a coalition with either the Liberals or Conservatives and the session was called without it being clear who the cabinet ministers were."

Liberal leader John Hart was attempting to form a coalition with the Conservatives under R. L. Maitland.

The Liberal leader told Mr. Winch one day the Conservatives demanded an additional cabinet post to the number agreed to in previous discussions. The Conservatives were also demanding a post heretofore guaranteed to the Liberals.

"He asked me what I would do in the situation. I said 'You tell the Conservatives to go to hell. Tell Maitland you're going to carry on as a minority and the CCF will support you.'"

Hart told Mr. Winch 30 minutes later the Conservatives had backed down and a coalition was formed.

Civil Servants "Discontented" And Pay Hikes Urged Now

OTTAWA (CP)—The Staff, Migration and Customs workers' union said today that the federal pay study that followed the cross-country postal strike would increase last year but these low wages would be paid to the workers on grounds of inflation.

The letter proposed an increase of at least four per cent for the 9,000 professionals in Group A and 6 1/2 per cent for the 67,000 clerical and administrative workers in Group B.

It urged that the Group A boost be made retroactive to July 1, 1964, and those in Group B to Oct. 1, 1964.

The letter complained that the cabinet has been refusing to make wage recommendations to the civil service commission.

Pay scales of federal workers are studied in four groups—A, B, C and D. There was no mention in the letter of Group C, covering hospital workers.

RAISED AFTER STRIKE

In August the government approved a series of special increases for the 58,000 employees covered in Group D—postal, im-

'Copter Now Polling Booth

YELLOWKNIFE, N.W.T. (CP)—A helicopter is to become a mobile polling station in Canada's largest and "most remote constituency Nov. 8.

Stan (Red) Williams of Yellowknife, returning officer for the 1,304,000-square-mile electoral district of Northwest Territories, has asked the three candidates, Conservative, Liberal and NDP, to send representatives on the helicopter.

It also would carry a deputy returning officer, poll clerk and Indian-English interpreter to operate polling stations at Hesp Lake, Rae Lake and Snare Lake.

The three settlements, within a 150-mile arc north of Yellowknife, which is 750 miles north of Edmonton, have been made inaccessible to float—equipped aircraft by freeze-up and have no residents believed capable of handling polling station duties if ballot boxes and supplies were dropped by parachute.

Grits Mean Tight Money Bennett Tells B.C. Rally

VICTORIA (CP) — Premier Bennett said Wednesday night a vote for the Liberal party Nov. 8 is a vote for tight money.

He told a Social Credit rally one of the reasons Prime Minister Pearson called the election was because he has policies "he was afraid to put before a minority government — and that includes tight money."

"And once they (the Liberals) get in for five years, they'll make you like it."

Cancer Deaths At 17 Per Cent Of All Reported In Canada

OTTAWA (CP) — Cancer accounted for 17 per cent of all deaths in Canada in 1963, compared with 14 per cent in 1950, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today.

The bureau also reported that cancer deaths among men rose during the period but the corresponding female death rate declined.

Other facts revealed in the special survey were:

—Cancer of the digestive system and associated peritoneum accounted for nearly 40 per cent of all cancer deaths among men in 1963, and cancer of the respiratory system, including lung cancer, for more than 22 per cent.

—Cancer of the breast and genital-urinary organs accounted for nearly 41 per cent of cancer deaths among women in 1963, and cancer of the digestive system and peritoneum for nearly 37 per cent.

—Between 1950 and 1963 cancer death rates rose for men in all provinces, with the largest increases in Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia, and the smallest increases in Saskatchewan and New Brunswick.

—Between the same years, cancer death rates for women dropped most in Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia, but were appreciably higher in Newfoundland.

The rally was a windup of a province-wide tour by the premier in support of Social Credit candidates. Three of the party's four Vancouver Island candidates attended.

Mr. Bennett labelled the election as "the election of the big switch."

He said it took voters many years to get fed up with the old-line parties in provincial politics and there is a similar move now on the federal scene.

The most recent evidence, he said, was the Tuesday switch in support from the Liberals to Conservatives by two Saskatchewan daily newspapers—the Saskatoon Star-Phoenix and the Regina Leader-Post.

Mr. Bennett did not say that they switched to the Conservative party.

BRIEF: GRIEF

Conservative leader Diefenderfer, he said, would have made a wonderful justice minister with his legal background, but with "Dief the Chief" there was only grief.

Mr. Pearson would have been the greatest foreign minister or external affairs minister ever seen in Canada, but he's "been the poorest prime minister in all the 100 years."

Mr. Bennett conceded Social Credit could not elect a government this election.

"But send some yeast and you'll leaven the whole loaf. It's not a time to vote for the man to send down there (to Ottawa) to straighten out the mess."

Mr. Bennett outbouted hecklers, calling them "stupid people" sent by the other parties.

When the hecklers made themselves heard, they asked about foreign ownership and water export. Mr. Bennett replied:

"Right now, I'm warning him (Mr. Pearson) to keep his cotton pick's hands off our water."

Majority Call "Fake"

OLIVER (CP)—The Liberal call for a majority government doesn't ring true, B.C. Forests Minister Ray Whittam said Wednesday night.

He said the Liberals are asking the voters in the Nov. 8 federal election to act on expediency.

"We don't expect to turn a government, but we must send men back to Ottawa who will act cooperatively," Mr. Whittam told a rally in support of C. E. Emery, Social Credit candidate for Okanagan-Southwest.

Mr. Whittam said federal policy has always been centred on Ontario and Quebec. But at present the Canadian economy is "riding on the backs of the West," he said.

Jurors In Case Against Reds Haven't Heard 'Any Bad Words'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States opens its case against the Communist party today before 12 jurors who swear they've never heard, said or read a bad word about it.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Joseph Lowther was prepared to call eight prosecution witnesses including at least one who will testify he met himself available to the party to register with the federal government as required by law.

The absence of such testimony in the party's December, 1962, trial cost the government victory. The U.S. Court of Appeals, reversing the conviction and $120,000 fine, said the government had to prove such a volunteer was available.

The party is charged with failing to register with the government as a Soviet agent and could face a maximum fine of $230,000.

When the panel of 37 prospective jurors was called, Judge William B. Jones asked the group 30 questions.

Those who stood in response were summoned to the bench for a private discussion with Jones and the opposing lawyers, Lowther for the government and Joseph Forer and John J. Abt for the Communists.

Jones asked if "any of you had any hostility, ill will or dislike to the Communist party," nobody stood up. Equal silence greeted the question of whether "any of you have ever said or written anything favorable or derogatory" about the party.

Only one man got to his feet when the group was asked if it had ever "heard, seen or read anything derogatory about the Communist party," he was dismissed.

While one man volunteered that he believed the party is an enemy of the United States, not even he arose when Jones asked if anyone believed it to be a subversive organization.

South Koreans "Killed 6 GIs"

SAIGON (Reuters) — The helicopter that accidentally killed six U.S. paratroopers and wounded three last week came from a South Korean artillery battery, authoritative military sources said today.

The paratroopers, members of the 101st Airborne Division, were hit when their squad inadvertently moved into the artillery's line of fire during an operation Oct. 28 near Qui Nhon, 270 miles northeast of Saigon.

The operation was supported by American, South Korean and South Vietnamese artillery. An inquiry into the fatal accident has just been completed.

Better Study Of Water Urged

VANCOUVER (CP)—The federal government must not consider water export deals until it finds out how much water the country has and how much it needs, says the B.C. Federation of Labor.

The federation's annual convention Tuesday proposed a broad study projecting water requirements for agricultural, industrial, urban, recreational and other needs.

It called for legislation on conservation and distribution of water, overriding jurisdictions and boundaries.

The labor body has strenuous objections to the Columbia River treaty as a giveaway of water, soil and air pollution.

The study would specifically tackle sewage, chemical and detergent pollution, uncontrolled discharge of industrial wastes into the air and fresh water, and the dangers of pollution and insecticides to food.
